Advices from Monte Carlo report unusually severe weather. The cold is so sharp that the chips freeze to the tables.

The raucous shown by the Southern press toward General Butler will cause the North, in spite of his imperfections, to reverse his memory "for the enemies he has made."

When General Butler was first in Congress, in wandering about the Capitol he found himself far down in his corridors, and encountered a spectral-looking man, of whom he asked: "Are you an official?" "Oh, yes," was the reply; "I am keeper of the Washington cry!" Much surprised he re-entered the House, and still more surprised its members by introducing for unanimous consent a resolution to abolish that keepership. No one had ever heard of cry or office; but a slight investigation showed that early in the century, when it was proposed to rebuild General Washington in the Capitol, a cry was authorized with a keeper and an incumbent appointed. The latter was slightly salaried, and successors served from the time of the elder Adams to that of Lincoln. But after General Butler's discovery the paper and ink cry was no longer watched.

New ideas in paving have lately attracted attention. Among these is the paving of a bridge by a German engineer with India rubber, the result having been so satisfactory as to induce its application on a much larger scale, a point in its favor being that it is more durable than asphalt, and not slippery. In London a section of roadway under the gate leading to the departure platform of the St. Pancras terminus has for some time past been paved with this material, with the effect of deadening the sound made when being passed over on wheels, besides the comfortable elasticity afforded to foot passengers. Another material which is being satisfactorily introduced for this purpose is composed of granulated cork and bitumen pressed into blocks, and which are laid like bricks or wood paving, the special advantage secured in this case being that of elasticity; in roadways it furnishes a fine foothold for horses, and at the same time does away to a great degree with the noise which commonly accompanies city traffic. In Australia this method has been resorted to with excellent results.

Six hundred coal miners of Kentucky have gone out on a strike. They say the price of coal has advanced during the cold weather, that their expenses have been increased, that their wages remain the same and that they cannot make a living on the small stipend allowed by the company. Should the unprecedented demand for coal continue throughout the Ohio Valley, there is a possibility that the miners will win the strike.

It appears to be generally admitted by old river men at Pittsburgh that the present has been the hardest winter since 1856. If the snow should happen to be taken off suddenly by rain, there would no doubt be a flood, the like of which has not occurred for years, as the snow is general throughout the country. However, the ice went out during the spring of 1856 without doing much damage, and it may go out the same way this year.

By that time nearly all the mail systems on the Vanderbilt lines will be using gas. The Postoffice Department has requested this as being the best interest of the mail clerks. All other kinds of lights have proved unsatisfactory on long lines.

SERIES OF SKETCHES.

SOMETHING NEW AND INTERESTING FOR "THE LEDGER" READERS.

Character Portraits of Maysville People from the Pen of Adna A. Wadsworth, Incorporated With Incidents of the West.

THE LEDGER will, on Monday, January 23d, contain the first of a series of sketches from the pen of A. A. Wadsworth, Esq., in which he will undertake to depict the characteristics and eccentricities, as well as anecdotes, of some of Maysville's citizens.

These sketches will relate to a number of departed as well as living subjects, and will no doubt revive many old associations and reminiscences of Maysville in its olden time.

These sketches will depart from time to time, from the subjects above mentioned and give some of the writer's experience in the West, among the mining camps of Colorado and his trip across the Rocky Mountains and the plains.

Draw Your Own Conclusion. Mr. J. O. Davenport, Manager of the Fort Bragg Redwood Company, Fort Bragg, Cal., has this to say of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy: "I used it for a severe cold and cough and obtained immediate relief. In the Fort Bragg Redwood Company's store we have sold large quantities of Chamberlain's medicines." For sale by Power & Reynolds, druggists.

Now is the Time to Inveat- Let Everyone Be Liberal in a Cause So Worthy of Consideration— "The Lord Loatheth a Cheerful Giver."

The extreme cold of the past two days has added much to the misery and discomfort of the poorer classes in this city.

Generous-hearted people continue to donate to the relief fund and the committee has been unceasing in its endeavors to apply charity where it is needed and deserved. A vast amount of suffering has been relieved, but much can still be done.

Clothing and bed covering are almost as much in demand as provisions and fuel.

The cash contributions have been very liberal, but in order to produce the results desired by the committee more is needed.

The committee requests that a collection be taken Sunday in all the churches of the city for the suffering and destitute.

COLONEL BALDWIN.

He is interviewed at Lexington by a "Leader" Reporter.

The report that Colonel W. W. Baldwin, the Turnpike King and prominent politician and farmer, was a candidate for Uncle Jerry Rusk's shoes, is denied by the Colonel himself. True, Colonel Baldwin is big brained and good looking enough for Cabinet timber, but he already has his hands full of business that employs all his time.

In addition to managing the Maysville and Lexington turnpike, he has a big Mason county farm and other property to look after. When it comes to farming he can give Uncle Jerry four acres and shut him out of the game. As to mule raising, Uncle Jerry would not be in it with him any more than he now is in the matter of good looks.

Colonel Baldwin was not to die at the Phoenix, just as he had ceased praising enthusiastically the group of female beauties displayed in the last issue of THE LEXINGTON KEYSER, and being asked about his candidacy for Uncle Jerry's place, replied:

"That is all a canard. Just a joke some of the newspaper boys put up on me. I am not a candidate for any office, weak, but I want any. No, sir, I don't want any office from anybody—Mr. Cleveland or anyone else. I am not ambitious for political preferment. All I want is to make money and go to Heaven. Let me have one, and then I must catch that train."

The reporter declined and the Colonel hurried off to catch the train, fifteen cents better off than he would have been had the reporter accepted his invitation.

LOXO after our good citizens were abed, wrapped in pleasant dreams and a plethora of covering, faithful employees of the Water Company were digging through a perfect mass of earth to the effort to find and stop the leak at Market and Third streets. Under existing water conditions it was a tough job, but the noble workers won.

Optics and Dancing. The oyster supper and social hop given by the St. Patrick's Benevolent Society at Neptune Hall Thursday night was a very successful one and the society is very thankful for the liberal patronage of the citizens of Maysville and vicinity.

Many thanks are also due the ladies for their kind assistance, which contributed so much to the pleasure and entertainment of the evening.

The genuine Irish jig danced by John O'Connell and James Redmond was well executed and proved a taking feature.

Impostions.

A few days ago some people were lounging about a West End grocery during working hours in the establishment where they were known to be employed, and upon being questioned as to their idleness replied that there was no use working when coal and provisions came so easy, meaning that they had been helped by the Relief Committee, and would, therefore, enjoy a few days holiday.

It seems that no charity can be generally extended that the donors are not in some way benefited. They have worked faithfully to insure the comfort of these very persons who in turn make light of their generosity.

At Aberdeen.

Henry Crawford, Andy Reed, William Applegate and Sam Moore, all living in the West End and employees of the Maysville Cotton Mills, went over to Aberdeen last night.

Of course they patronized the saloons, and not being used to Aberdeen whisky, (few men are), it soon got the better of them. Marshal Shells finally concluded that it was his duty to arrest them. They showed resistance, but the Marshal, ably backed by a couple of assistants, landed the whole crowd.

Reed gave up his watch as security and was allowed to depart. The rest of the boys had to stay all night. The trial comes off this morning at 10 o'clock. The Maysville crowd was pretty well battered up.

HOLMAN, that old barnacle from Indiana, who is a drawback to legislation in Congress and a disgrace to even the ignorant constituency that sent him to Washington, has had another fit of economy. His last bid is upon the animals in the National Zoological Garden. He proposes to confiscate the trunks of elephants for their board, and cut off the rations of the monkey who married the baboon's sister. He thinks he will aid in obviating a deficit in the Treasury by refusing milk to the cows and potatoes to the prairie dogs. In fact, he proposes to go further and sell all the animals and birds and bugs for the benefit of the great Republic, and relieve the pressure and distress of the people of the country by so doing. The full committee, not being patriotic, and not having the interests of the country at heart, rudely sat down on old Holman's proposition.

RESIGNATION

Of Senator Carlisle Received by Gov. Brown.

His Retirement From the U. S. Senate Will Occur February 4.

The document sent to the Kentucky Senate and spread on the floor. The resignation of Senator Carlisle has been received by Gov. Brown.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 31.—At last the long-looked-for resignation of Senator Carlisle has arrived. The much expected letter was received Friday at the executive mansion. Soon after it was reported to the senate and spread on the floor.

The acceptance of the resignation was with the governor, and he, of course, acquiesced, and after February 4, John G. Carlisle will no longer be a senator of the United States from Kentucky. The story was that the resignation was made by the senator in the morning of the day that he received the letter Thursday and held back its promulgation until he had determined what was best to do in the senatorial race. His private secretary, Mr. Soss, said to the Commercial Appeal correspondent:

"This is an infamous lie. A gentleman (naming him) was present when the carrier came Friday morning and saw me pick the letter from Washington from the pack and copy it to my father, and in an hour afterward it was reported to the senate."

The letter and communication of the governor to the senate are as follows: CONGRESSMAN OF KENTUCKY, J. G. CARLISLE, FRANKFORT, KY., JAN. 31, 1903. Gentlemen of the General Assembly: I herewith send you my resignation of the office of senator of the state of Kentucky in congress of the United States, to take effect on the 4th day of February, 1903.

"U. S. SENATE, WASHINGTON, D. C., JAN. 31, 1903. Hon. John George Brown, Governor of Kentucky, Frankfort, Ky. Dear Sir:—I hereby resign the office of senator of the state of Kentucky in congress of the United States, to take effect on the 4th day of February, 1903."

There has been something in post-haste effort for the thirty votes more than Gov. Brown abandoning the senatorial race, and a great gain for it.

The best consequence of this is that Friday on the first ballot St. McGraw 53, Stone 36, with 49 necessary to a nomination. From which it may be seen that if the thirty votes more than Gov. Brown were added to the tally, it would be a force for Lindsey and he may be left yet notwithstanding his bold proposal of victory with a lock of hair.

The world's fair bill passed a second time by the general assembly, making it obligatory upon the governor to appoint two reputable members on the board of managers.

A KLEPTOMANIC.

The Mail-Carrier Who Stole Everything He Could Get His Hands On.

PARSONAGE, W. Va., Jan. 31.—Harry Brown, for many years a mail-carrier at Wheeling, and a member of one of the prominent families, was indicted by the grand jury of the United States court for tampering with the mails, stealing stamps and a variety of other articles. His arrest created a profound sensation, as he was the least suspected man. He had been talked of as a republican candidate for mayor, and was quite prominent politically. Friday he made a public confession in open court of all the charges against him. The case is a peculiar one. Although he confessed to the stealing of nearly one thousand dollars' worth of government property, he did not appropriate a cent of it to his own use.

In his room all the property was found properly marked, but not a cent's worth used. The government did not lose a cent of the stamps, the stealing stamps, he stole a set of clothing, ladies' shoes, hardware, fancy pens, and a variety of things for which he had no use.

All these were found properly labeled in his room just as they had been taken from the stores. His counsel, Ex-Confederate Adjutant General John H. Harrison, said that he is leniently sentenced by the court. That was a kleptomaniac and meant to violate no law by his act. Sentence has been given.

This privilege is fixed at $75,000 for one year, and the government will not allow more than this sum to be paid for the franchise. By this the government hopes to stop smuggling. The result will probably be that the smugglers will be driven out of the island.

DEMPEY CONVICTED. Found Guilty of Concealing a Plan to Police Homeless Workmen.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 31.—The jury in the case of Hugh Dempsey, charged with poisoning non-union Homeless men, found the defendant guilty as charged.

Judge Stone, in charging the jury in the Dempsey case Friday morning, reviewed very carefully and impartially all points of the testimony brought out during the trial. It was for the jury to decide whether or not the defendant was guilty.

The prosecution depends solely upon the testimony of Gallagher and Davidson. If they tell the truth, then the defendant was the originator and principal in the plot to poison the men.

"The prosecution depends solely upon the testimony of Gallagher and Davidson. If they tell the truth, then the defendant was the originator and principal in the plot to poison the men."

Dempsey emphatically denies what Gallagher and Davidson say in regard to the purpose for which he employed them. He is a competent but an intelligent man. They are also competent men. But the jury may, if they believe their testimony, convict from it alone.

HIS VILLAINY.

Sensational Charges Against Supreme Justice Sombory.

He Began Thirty Years Ago the Swindling of Men and Women.

It is charged He and His Associates Robbed the Members of the Iron Horse. The eight victims named in O. W. Sombory's Victim.

ELIZABETH, N. Y., Jan. 31.—A member of the Iron Horse, reading a publication recently wrote a letter to Judge James C. Young, of Kansas City, the chief attorney for the general receiver of the order in the United States, and received a reply in which Judge Young gives an extended review of the history of the financial condition of the order, and makes some very serious charges of embezzlement and robbery against Supreme Justice Sombory and other members of the order.

The only explanation they offer is that it was necessary to put $1,700,000 more into the worthless bank in Philadelphia, but that they have the $500,000 already there. It has recently developed that the first $100,000 taken from the banks in Indianapolis and carried to Philadelphia and there deposited, was assumed to have been deposited in the Mutual Banking Trust and Safe Deposit Co., did not remain there over night, but was taken to a secret place where they left the office and each carried home the money. They used it for their own purposes, but subsequently returned it, but subsequently returned it, but subsequently returned it.

The bank examiner made an examination of the cash on hand and found that they were only $37,000 in the bank.

He made an assessment of $170,000 and gave them forty-eight hours to get the money. In the end, however, they failed to do so, and the bank was forced to close.
